

ArabWIC

Arab Women in Computing

Arab Women In Computing (ArabWIC) is honored to be a member of the Anita Borg Systems Communities and to have a strong presence at the Grace Hopper Conference for Women in Computing 2015.

Wednesday, Oct 14th to Friday, October 16th

George R. Brown Convention Center in Houston, TX.

The goal of The Arab Women In Computing association (ArabWIC) is to support, inspire, retain, encourage, increase visibility, and elevate the status of Arab women in technology across the various computing/technology sectors (academia, industry and entrepreneurship). ArabWIC also seeks to foster collaboration among Arab women in computing disciplines, help them achieve their career goal, and link them with international women-in-CS organizations.

Join us at the ArabWIC reception, panels, ABI booth and lunchtime table topics' discussion featuring hot topics such as Women entrepreneurs in the Arab world and ArabWIC mentoring program.
